OF A PARALEGAL

A paralegal is a person qualified through education, training, or work experience, who is employed or retained by a lawyer, law office, governmental agency, or other entity in a capacity or function which involves the performance, under the ultimate direction and supervision of an attorney. A paralegal handles specifically delegated substantive legal work, which, for the most part, requires a sufficient knowledge of legal concepts that, absent such assistance, an attorney would perform their own.

As stated by the New Jersey Supreme Court Committee on the Unauthorized Practice of Law, the terms paralegal and legal assistant are considered synonymous and are used interchangeably.

AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS
o f
SOUTH JERSEY PARALEGAL ASSOCIATION

South Jersey Paralegal Association (SJPA) is a nonprofit corporation comprised of paralegals and paralegal students. SJPA's members also include paralegal educational institutions and other entities that support its goals and the paralegal profession. The Association was organized to provide professional support, expand recognition of the paralegal profession, offer continuing legal education, facilitate improvements in paralegal education programs, and promote the paralegal image. SJPA continues to strive to achieve these and other goals.

Formation

In the late 1970s, educational facilities in New Jersey began offering a variety of paralegal education programs. Graduates of local programs realized the need for a professional support group. South Jersey Paralegal Association was organized in 1980 and incorporated in May, 1983. SJPA currently has members in many counties in the state and holds dinner meetings between September and June in various locations throughout Southern New Jersey.

Officers and Committees

The SJPA Board of Directors is made up of our officers and various committees and coordinators. Our policy committees include membership, delivery of paralegal services, professional development, nominations and elections, and pro bono. SJPA administrative committees include public relations, newsletter, continuing education, programs, job bank, dinner meetings, and fundraising. SJPA also has ad hoc committees as needs arise. The current ad hoc committees in place are website, membership directory, library, and regulation.

Officers are elected by voting members of the Association. The offices are president, vice president, treasurer, recording secretary, and primary and secondary representatives to the National Federation of Paralegal Associations (NFPA). Appointed officers are corresponding secretary and parliamentarian. Officers and policy committee chairs must be voting members in good standing; administrative and ad hoc committee chairs may be associate or student members in good standing.

SJPA has been represented on the New Jersey State Bar Association Paralegal Committee since approximately 1981. This representation enables interaction with members of the Bar and Judiciary, participation in matters of mutual interest, and an opportunity to increase recognition of paralegal participation in the delivery of legal services. In 1994, the NJSBA granted special committee status to the Paralegal Committee. With this recognition, membership to the Committee with voting privileges became open to any practicing paralegal in the state. Presently, the Committee is comprised of paralegals, attorneys and educators.

We encourage all our members to become involved in our organization. Participation is a key ingredient to the success of SJPA. All board meetings are open to any member and we invite you to attend. If you are interested in any of our open positions, please contact any board member.

National Membership

On June 5, 1984, SJPA became the 33rd member association of the National Federation of Paralegal Associations, Inc., which now represents paralegal associations nationwide. By this affiliation, SJPA members receive information on issues facing the profession across the country and have a forum to discuss issues of mutual concern. SJPA members have access to a network of paralegals from which they can obtain state-specific information as well as experts in specialty areas of law, etc.

Each SJPA member receives the NFPA publication The National Paralegal Reporter, a journal that contains substantive articles of interest.

Paralegals On-Line

SJPA is now online!! Were very excited about our new website. Here, you will be able to find general information about our association, a calendar of upcoming events, membership applications, a photo gallery, and much more. Check us out at .sjpaparalegals.org. For all you "surfers" out there, come on by and take a swim!

NFPA is also online. At <http://www.Daralegals.org>, individuals can access paralegal networking groups, worldwide resume service, seminar information and publications, and service directories. This forum permits you to exchange ideas, tips, and information on the profession. Networking groups are open to NFPA and American Association for Paralegal Education ("AWE") members.

Paralegals Involved in Pro Bono

SJPA has worked with Camden Regional Legal Services (CRLS) by assisting attorneys in providing pro bono legal services. Initial projects included research assignments, assistance with client intake, file review to determine the role of the paralegal, and more substantive paralegal tasks under attorney supervision. SJPA is proud to have received recognition awards from Camden Regional Legal Services for its contributions and participation in providing pro bono legal services through CRLS.

SJPA has also volunteered with Habitat for Humanity, and its members continue to participate in organized Pro Bono activities in New Jersey.

Professional Development

Through standardized quality paralegal education, paralegals can increase their effective utilization and productivity and assist in the delivery of cost-efficient legal services. To that end, SJPA has participated in facilitating improvements in paralegal educational programs.

In 1992, SJPA awarded its first paralegal scholarship. SJPA continues to offer an educational scholarship each year.

SJPA Newsletter

SJPA publishes a newsletter called The Reporter. Here you will find local, state and national news, opportunities for continuing legal education, classified job listings, and other articles of interest to SJPA members. Information about our dinner meetings and a reservation form are also included. The Reporter is an excellent means to keep informed about the profession in general, and, particularly about the profession in New Jersey.

Dinner Meetings

SJPA provides opportunities for continuing legal education to its members at its dinner meetings held in September, November, January, and March. The Association's Annual Meeting is held in May, which is also the meeting at which we elect our officers for the new year. At the June meeting, we have our installation of officers. The meetings are held at various locations throughout southern New Jersey. At each dinner meeting, there are speakers that provide discussions on a variety of legal specialty topics. SJPA also provides local and national news about the profession, and there is an informal opportunity to network.

For the student, the returning paralegal, the new paralegal, or just someone with an interest, networking is a chance to meet working paralegals and gain information and insight into the paralegal profession. SJPA members are happy to share their knowledge and experience with people who are attracted to the paralegal field, and our dinner meetings are the perfect forum.

Continuing Legal Education Seminars

SJPA has participated and continues to participate with the Legal Assistant's Association of New Jersey through the Garden State Alliance ("GSA") in offering a statewide, joint-venture educational convention. GSA Conventions offer numerous educational seminars taught by attorneys, educators and paralegals (including "A Day in the Life of the Paralegal" sessions), a Vendor Exhibitor Hall, and a luncheon. Over 400 paralegals and paralegal students have attended this convention in recent years. Additional information is available on the GSA website, gsaconvention.com.

SJPA Library

In 1996, SJPA instituted a lending library program for its members. The current listing of available books, audio cassettes and video cassettes is published periodically in The Reporter. Included in the library are titles on topics ranging from how to write a resume, legal research, and the NFPA Annual Salary Survey. The materials are maintained by the SJPA Librarian and are available at no charge to all members of SJPA for one month lending periods.

The following NFPA brochures are available to SJPA members. Please contact any Board Member for additional information.

Attorney-Client and Attorney Work Product; Privileges: Their Application to Paralegals; NFPA Member Benefits; CLE: Staying Current in the Legal Profession; Model Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility; NFPA Pro Bono - Paralegals Making a Difference; NFPA - The Association's Partner in Progress; PACE: Ready to be a PACE- setter; Paralegal Involvement with Bar Associations; Paralegals and Conflict of Interest; Recovery of Paralegal Fees; Statement on Issues Affecting the Paralegal Profession; Paralegals: Defining the Profession.

Accomplishments

In the course of SJPA's history, our members have been instrumental in charting the course of paralegals in New Jersey. Thanks to the dedicated efforts of our members, paralegals in our state now have the right to carry business cards and practice independently as contract paralegals.

The New Jersey Supreme Court issued its decision In re: Opinion 24 of the Committee on the Unauthorized Practice of Law on May 14, 1992. On May 18, 1999, the New Jersey Supreme Court declined to act on the recommendations of its Committee on Paralegal Education and Regulation to implement a licensing scheme. The issue of regulation continues to be debated in many venues.

SJPA has also had a voice in the codification of Rule 4:42-9 (b) as it relates to recoverability of paralegal fees and the ABA commission on non-lawyer practice.

Future Challenges for SJPA

SJPA is proud of the success of the Association. SJPA members look forward to continued growth and development of the paralegal profession, continued achievement of the Association's goals and objectives, and strengthening the lines of communication with the Bar and Judiciary. Looking forward, SJPA welcomes the knowledge that continued work and dedication will increase paralegal participation in the delivery of cost-efficient legal services.
